I went to school with Aaron's youngest sister. We were friends while in school and always enjoyed running into her if our and about. Just happened to see her brother's name on Fb. Wondered if it was her brother. I sent a message to Aaron and found out he was her brother. He and I became friends. Just so happen he had worked with another friend of mine. We talked during the last few years. He believed in prayer, whether anyone knew that or not. He shared with me his love for Elvis. His love for his family. He always wanted to see them more than he saw them, but was a happy man when he could see them or talk to them. He was very proud of his family. He will be missed by this friend. My thoughts and prayers are with all of his family. Aaron is with his mother now who he had missed very much. He has a new body walking around heaven with his mother.
