“ Rest in peace Phil! I will always cherish the day he came to the Downtown Market and sang and played his guitar and shared his testimony. What a character! It really touched my heart! I'm sure he is still singing and playing his guitar up in heaven now. My prayers for strength and peace to the family.

“ I remember when Phil would bring his guitar into Mama's restaurant (Nana's kitchen) and just start playing for everybody, he was a dear friend and always there for my mom and dad and us girls, taking time out of his schedule to drive to California to move my oldest sister here, you're up there with some good company you'll surely be missed

*Another GOD LOVING MAN has taken flight above.
I was in school with Phil in high school. We had a fun class. Our kids attended that same school years later. Traditions
In last few yrs Ed and I would run into him out eating and catch up. He was a good guitar player said he learned to play in service cause nothing better to do 😊.
He serenaded us once when him and couple of other musical friends were playing outside a pub in Royston. They played - we danced. A good memory.
Family share your memories and be comforted.

“ Phil, like all of the Bryants I knew had a great sense of humor. The Bryants, Burches and Harris' families always competed to have the most family members present during services at Royston Baptist Church. I know Phil will be missed by many.

“Phil and I were as close as brothers. I loved him very much. We enjoyed music and singing together with me singing tenor and Phil playing guitar and singing base. We sang in churches and many other venues. We both enjoyed music. There was nothing better than a dirt track race on a Saturday night. We enjoyed many activities together. I'll miss you Phil. I love you brother, and I look forward to seeing you again one day.

“*I am so sorry to hear of Phil's passing. I remember him all the way back to days of his dairy farm. He was always going across the highway and he and Miss Mazelle at Dixie Dale were great friends! They would always make me laugh, he would usually talk her out of free candy.
He was a really nice guy and I would see him around town and he would bring out photos of his grandkids, he adored them all and was so proud.
He was a good friend always willing to help anyone. My thoughts are with all of the family.*

“ One of the best friends I have ever had. Just like a brother to me I'm sure going to miss him.
