“ I sit here with tears in my eyes for your precious baby boy! I realize he is with Jesus and not suffering any longer but I am human with human feelings and my heart brakes for your family I pray God wraps his LOVING arm around you and brings you Peace and Understanding that only comes through him! God bless you!

“ On't know you personally but discovered you on the FB pages of Tripp Halstrad . I was brought to tears as I have read and kept up with your family. I was a Pediatric for 17 yrs and loved it before that I worked mostly in ICU so I have taken care of several children with this it always amazed me how young children deal with this and the pain you know they have to have but a Dr. Once told me most kids don't understand pain because they have never hurt before but as we age more and more we soon learn all about pain then when we hit old age we know about every pain there is and we learned if we know how to show it then we will get what we want . Hope theses few words will help you understand what his last days ,hours and minutes were like. And like other things we don't really know until we get to that point what goes on ? Sending you many prayers that God will cover you and all the families involved .. May God give you peace and understanding as you face every new day ahead . And if we only believe then will he hear our pleas and answer our prayers .
