“ It is so easy to take life and the people in it for granted and now it seems more apparent than ever. Knowing you was a blessing I will never be ungrateful for. A smile like no other, always kind, always caring with just enough crazy to keep it interesting. Last time we spoke we laughed at how life had went for us both and how blessed we had been over the years. Praying for your family, for your beautiful daughter and for all those blessed enough to have known you.
