“ Mandy, my heart is breaking for you and your precious family. Your mom was your number one fan. She loved you so much, you could tell by the way she looked at you. Her face would light up when she talked about you. I know she's proud of you! Cherish all those memories you two made together. I'm praying for your strength and comfort. I love you, Mandy.

“ To Wanda's Family:

Sorry to hear of Wanda's passing. I used to work with Wanda many years ago and remember her as a good worker. My husband also knows her as she was the daughter of a good friend of his aunt. We are thinking of you during your time of loss and praying that the Lord will give you comfort. Love and prayers.

“ To Mandy and Family,

I am so sorry for your loss. I know the pain and disbelief you are feeling and I pray that as the days pass and you try to pick up the pieces that you always rely on Gods love ad strength to get you through. I know there are no words that will help in this situation but please know that I am praying for each of you daily and my heart is heavy for your loss. Mrs. Wanda was a sweet incredible lady and we had lots of fun during our high school years. May the peace of God fill each of you. Love you.

“ Jackson and Mandy my heart is broken for you. I saw Wanda before Thanksgiving at Rite Aid. I am so thankful for that visit. She was a precious lady and I know she'll be missed so much. Prayers going up for you all. You don't ever get over it you just get used to it but the Lord does help you get through it. Love you Mandy Ms. Sandy
